Minding Your Business

Steve Lam is a people person. “We own a company that helps people, we help people. Furies is all the people that help those people. Our employees are happy people. Happy people create happy customers. Every customer has to be happy. Our job is to make them happy.” Steve Lam and his wife Jean bought the well-established business the Furies a few years ago, after 30 or more years in New York. “We wanted to change our lives so we came to Cape Cod.”

“Cape Cod is a special place,” said Lam. “We live in such a special place. That’s what we instill in our team, that we are cleaning the homes and businesses of real people who live on the Cape.” He recited a story of an elderly man who obviously made an impression on him. The Furies were called to clean out an idle cottage on his property for relatives coming to visit. His wife had passed away recently and he broke into tears talking to Lam. “We cleaned his cottage and I called him the next day and asked ‘how did we do?’ I try to remind my team all the time that it is a very personal business. And that we are here to help people.”

He said the Furies “bring an order to a person’s home. People appreciate it. You know that sixth sense when you walk into a clean house, that’s what we want to achieve.” He said they recognize that some people can’t physically clean because of age or a medical condition. “We want to help.”

The Furies can help you by cleaning and/or steam cleaning your home or business. The cleaning business uses eco-friendly products, and you can hire them for spring cleaning or to establish a general house cleaning routine. They are bonded and insured and are available for hire from Provincetown to Chatham. They also offer commercial cleaning and post construction cleaning. They recently acquired the Hydro Power Carpet and Upholstery Cleaning. Now you can call the Furies to steam clean your carpets, area rugs, upholstered furniture and more. “It’s a very effective eco-friendly steam cleaning. We do many restaurants, hotels, motels, banks and houses on a frequent basis. We have an experienced team. We price competitively, too.”

“I am so pleased with the results to our wall to wall carpet, and was especially impressed with your steam cleaning team,” said one Orleans customer.

A commercial client said “Thank you for keeping our operation clean and running smoothly. Many thanks to all your teams.”

During the summer and fall seasons, call or go online to take advantage of their linen rentals service. “We are recommended by many real estate brokers and rental agencies. Our linens are professionally laundered, and then we inspect them before we send them out for delivery. Each year we donate three vans of any slightly imperfect ones to the Family Pantry of Cape Cod. We support the Pantry with monetary donations too. We are so impressed with them.”

Lam said they hold team meetings regularly. “I love to look at all these wonderful people who are the Furies.”

“Thanks! Best crew and best job ever! They did a fabulous job!” agreed a South Wellfleet resident.
